My Experience

- Chairperson of YSpeak (South-West Glasgow Youth Forum)
- MSYP for Glasgow Southside
- Community Councillor on Kinning Park Community Council
- Member of the NHS Health Scotland Young Scot National Advisory Panel on Youth Health

Since the age of 14, I have been heavily involved in youth representation and campaigning. Through the experience of being the first chairperson of my local youth forum, representing my community and in being elected to the Scottish Youth Parliament, I have always worked hard, and delivered on my commitments.

I've attended and presented at conferences, ran and participated in board meetings, taken tough decisions and worked with people from across the public, private and voluntary sectors.

Why Me?

I come from a background of representation on a local level, I've worked nationally and I have a passion for getting a fair deal for young people.

I also have experience in financial management, HR Management, working as part of a team and helping to run an organisation.

At the moment we are in uncharted territory economically and politically. It is our job to campaign and fight for fairness for young people. Campaigning for Votes@16, the removal of unfair tuition fees and reducing youth unemployment must be our priorities.

By working together we can campaign for all of these and more. We must fight our corner and stand up for young people across the country. We're not asking for the world, we're asking for fairness and that is what I would campaign for, if elected a Trustee.

My aims as a Trustee

The BYC is a fantastic organisation with a long history. It's doing some excellent work, and we should build on this by continuing to improve on it.

Ensuring BYC Membership continues to be affordable and worthwhile at a time of financial pressures.

Raise the BYC's National and Local Media Profile to allow members a bigger voice, give campaigns a better chance of success and to help raise the profile of the BYC itself.

Ensuring the BYC remains a sustainable organisation that is financially secure and well run; responding to a changing world and answering its members needs.

Ensuring that BYC National Campaign resources are able to be localised to suit local needs
